(FOX40.COM) — Hundreds of people rallied outside of Sacramento’s capitol building August 28 to voice their opinions about a ballot measure that the authors say is designed to protect children.

The bill is proposed by advocacy group Protect Kids California and includes the Protect Girls in Sports and Spaces Act, Protect Children From Reproductive Harm Act, and the School Transparency and Partnership Act.

According to Protect Kids California, the initiatives would protect children from reproductive harm, require schools to keep parents fully informed in all matters pertaining to their child’s mental, social, and physical health, and give female students safe and fair opportunities to compete in sports.
